'Appropriate action' pondered

Firefighters slate deadline for meet

By PHIL LEWIS

Record-Herald City Editor

Recent meetings between city firefighters and City Council's personnel committee have apparently failed to resolve problems in the Washington C.H. Fire Department.

The local firefighters union sent a letter to personnel committee members Thursday requesting a meeting before Tuesday. If no "satisfactory" negotiations are met by Tuesday, the union members will hold a special meeting to determine "what appropriate action" is to be taken.

Lt. Cecil D. Seaman, president of the local union, had no comment on what that action may be.

As of Friday morning, personnel committee chairman James Ward had not received the letter. However, Ward said a joint meeting of the personnel and finance committees was planned for Monday and fire department problems would be discussed.

Ward was named chairman of the personnel committee Wednesday night following the resignation from City Council of the former chairman, Ralph Cook.

The city firemen have been concerned over salaries and a recent cut in holiday pay, vacation time, and sick leave. Union members are hoping that some of the problems can be resolved before the city drafts its 1978 budget in the next several weeks.

Lt. Seaman pointed out that the union's urgency to resolve the problems was not an attempt to avoid negotiations with the "new City Council" which will be seated Jan. 4.

"The firefighters of Washington C.H. have tried to bargain in good faith with City Council for over a year," the letter read. "Soon it will be 1978 and the only change has been to the disadvantage of all firefighters."

The letter also stated that while other city employees have remained stable in fringe benefits, firefighters have received a reduction in benefits.

The letter contained a list of requests to be considered by city administrators.

The first request is for an increase in firemen's salaries including officers and the fire chief.

The pay request would increase salaries by approximately 10 per cent, according to Lt. Seaman. That increase would put the fire department employees on the same pay scale as the city police department.

Another major concern to the firefighters is holiday pay.

The firemen presently receive 108 hours of holiday pay a year. Before Council passed a new list of personnel rules and regulations, the firemen were receiving nearly 200 hours of holiday pay a year.

The firemen also received cuts in sick leave and vacation time following the passage of the new personnel rules and regulations this past summer.

Lt. Seaman said city administrators cut the firemen's benefits to equalize them with other city employees. However, Seaman points out the firemen's pay scale is not equal to that of the police department.

A city police patrolman is reportedly two pay scales higher than a fireman and the city police chief's pay scale is two levels higher than the city fire chief.

At a meeting held two weeks ago between firefighter union members and the personnel committee no progress was made in negotiations. One of the major concerns of Council members at the meeting was the institution of an active fire prevention and inspection program.

According to the letter, firemen were told Council would not consider any pay increases until such a program was implemented.

The firemen contend that a tentative fire prevention program has already been formulated by Fire Chief M.L. (Joe) Denen and the firefighters union has urged Council to take appropriate action to institute the program.

Denen formulated a three-step fire

State hopes cold weather will help

Fuel bill subsidy deadline Tuesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State officials are hopeful that the arrival of sub-freezing weather, forecast for most of Ohio this weekend, will prod more interest in the state's new utility bill subsidy program for the elderly and disabled.

The deadline for most of those who qualify for the temporary, 25 percent discounts is next Tuesday, although occupants of house trailers have a little longer, until Nov. 30. Users of propane, coal, wood, or other fuels purchased on a non-metered basis can qualify for a one-time winter payment of $87.50.

The Fayette County Commission on Aging, located in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church is assisting eligible Fayette Countians in completing application forms for the subsidy program. Robert J. Scholl, a tax department official helping implement the program, said Thursday that only about 50,000 of approximately 200,000 renters 65 and over have made application for discounts which would be reflected on bills they receive starting in December and continuing until next April.

County auditors are taking applications from elderly and disabled homeowners, and their percentage of applications probably is a little higher although figures were not available from the 88 county offices.

Discounts or one-time subsidies are limited to households with incomes of $7,000 or less.

Martin A. Janis, director of the Ohio Commission on Aging whose office has been helping spread the word on the new state program, said homeowner response has been excellent in the counties, based on reports he has heard.

He said a commission survey, still under way, showed that in each of two big counties, Franklin and Summit, about 18,000 applications had been received. He said he suspected the response has been the same proportionately in the other counties.

All told, about 500,000-600,000 elderly are expected to qualify.

Tax Commissioner Edgar L. Lindley, whose department is taking applications from renters only, along with Scholl, speculated Thursday that unseasonably warm weather the past several weeks may be a factor in the lack of response to the $40 million program.

In addition, Scholl said it may be possible that some eligible Ohioans are reluctant to apply because it might appear they were "going on welfare." He hopes such thoughts can be put aside, he said. The legislature deliberately avoided any connection of the program to the welfare department.

Last summer, the state received a $13 million federal subsidy to help the elderly catch up on utility bills still in arrears from the previous winter. The funds were not fully used, and Janis reported at that time that some senior citizens balked because applications were handled through county welfare offices.

Homeowners who haven't applied should call or get in touch with their county auditors. Renters should call or write the Ohio Department of Taxation, Columbus, 43215.

The department has a toll free line, 1-800-282-1780, and welcomes questions about any aspect of the program, Scholl said.

WAR DEAD REMEMBERED — R. Burris (Bud) Tharp, 433 Broadway St., was one of several World War I veterans who braved chilly temperatures and assembled on the lawn of the Fayette County Courthouse Friday morning to honor their fellow soldiers who gave their lives in defense of America's freedom. The Rev. Cloyce Copley was the principal speaker for the services conducted in front of the World War I monument by Fayette County Barracks No. 2291, Veterans of World War I. The service was at 11 a.m., the hour that an armistice was signed 59 years ago ending World War I. Other area veterans organizations will conduct rites at 7:30 p.m. tonight on the Courthouse lawn.

New federal rules called step backward in pollution control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Environmentalists say new changes in federal clean water laws will slow the pace of cleaning up the nation's waterways.

Larry Silverman of the Clean Water Action project said the revisions, approved Thursday by a House-Senate conference committee, mark a step backward in pollution control.

A spokesman for another environmental group called the proposals "a disappointment."

But industry spokesmen said the committee's agreement represented "a reasonable compromise" between environmental and economic concerns.

The changes are included in a bill authorizing the expenditure of $24.5 billion through 1982, mostly on federal grants for local sewage treatment plants.

In its compromise, the committee agreed to extend by a year deadlines the industry must meet to install improved water pollution equipment and said less efficient equipment would be acceptable.

The conferees also eased requirements designed to preserve the nation's environmentally delicate wetlands.

Their agreements still must be ac-

As conservation measure

Ban being considered on outdoor gas lamps

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional conference committee is considering a ban on decorative outdoor gaslights as a way to conserve scarce natural gas.

Backers of the prohibition, which has passed the House, claim there are between two million and four million of the lamps in the nation, many adorning residential frontyards and backyards.

Banning such lights could save as much as 73 billion cubic feet of gas per year, they claim.

The conferees, trying to frame a national energy bill, were to vote today on a proposal to require homeowners who now have the lights to shut them off or convert them to electricity.

On Thursday, the panel informally agreed to prohibit the installation of new gas lamps.

House negotiators favor required conversions, but Senate conferees said they were reluctant to force homeowners to replace the lamps.

Converting one to electricity could cost as much as $180, claimed Sen. Bennett Johnston, D-La. "This is a symbolic thing of some importance, but I hate to subject homeowners to such a switchover cost."

Johnston suggested, however, that Senate conferees might go along with a compromise giving homeowners until 1982 to replace or convert their gaslights.

Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., leader of the House conferees on this issue, said he feels the gas should be turned off on these decorative lamps as soon as possible. "This kind of gas usage is monstrously wasteful. These things burn day and night," he said.

The conference committee tentatively agreed to exempt non-residential lamps that are "of a traditional nature and in conformity with the cultural or architectural style of the area."

The gaslights of New Orleans' French Quarter were cited as an example of lamps that could continue to burn under the agreement.

Gas lamps used in certain historical landmarks would also be permitted, as would lights needed for safety and, in some instances, where there was no other street illumination.

There would be fines of $500 for each gas lamp that burns in defiance of the proposed ban, but conferees agreed that the fines would be paid by gas distribution companies and not by homeowners.

However, businesses that burned such lights after the ban took effect would have to pay any fines themselves.

Dingell said each gaslight burns an average 18,300 cubic feet of gas per year. He said the potential 73 billion cubic feet of gas such a prohibition would save annually "is not a piddling amount. It's equal to about 5 percent of the gas that will go through the new Alaska gas pipeline" expected to be built in the 1980s.

Catholic divorce penalty is lifted

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Roman Catholics who are divorced and remarry no longer will be excommunicated from the church and the stigma is wiped out for those who did so in the past, the U.S. National Conference of Bishops announced Thursday.

It said Pope Paul VI has agreed to lift the penalty in line with a request approved by the American bishops at their general meeting in Chicago last May.

This penalty was imposed by the Plenary Council of Baltimore in 1884 but has applied only to American Catholics.

However, the bishops stressed that lifting excommunication does not restore the right of the remarried Catholics to receive the sacraments such as penance and Holy Eucharist.

Russell Shaw, spokesman for the conference, said the action is a symbolic gesture of reconciliation inviting people to again think of themselves as Catholics.

Drug store cashier boosts winnings in Ohio's lottery

CLEVELAND (AP) — "It's beautiful!" said drugstore cashier Georgia Holland after hitting the big money, $50,000, for the second straight week on the Ohio Lottery's televised giveaway Thursday night.

That boosted the winnings of the 32-year-old mother of three to $75,000 in two weeks. And she gets a chance to come back for another try next week.

Mrs. Holland, whose husband, James, is a teacher, said she still hasn't given much thought to what she'll do with the winnings. But the suburban Cleveland Heights woman said she probably will use the money to pay off some bills, "put some away for the children's (Pamela, 11, Reginald, 7, and Ronald, 4) education," and then "maybe take a little trip."

E. E. Springer of Norwood won the $50,000 top prize in the TV Bonus drawing. Eleanor Popowski of Northfield won $10,000, and Mary Lou Skufza of Parma won $5,000.

Other winners in the 50-cent game included Stan Kucharski, Youngstown, $7,400; Ruth Daniels, Cincinnati, $7,700; Lena Perrella, Parma Heights, $8,600, and Harrison Ballew, Cincinnati, $10,000.

The following numbers were pulled in the weekly number drawing: 608-63-7; 236427.

Not linked with unrest

Police arrest 626 in S. Africa raid

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Police swept through the black township of Atteridgeville-Faulsville, arresting 626 blacks in a six-hour raid which authorities called a drive to combat criminal elements.

Brig. H.L. Abbott, division commander of police for northern Transvaal province, said Thursday's raid outside Pretoria was not connected with student unrest which has erupted intermittently since June 1976.

Among those arrested were 198 schoolchildren. Police said they would determine if any of the children should be referred to institutions. South Africa operates welfare homes for homeless black children.

Abbott said 410 persons were arrested for violation of passbook laws that require blacks to carry identity books and obtain government permission to live and work in white areas. The laws are used by the white government to control the movement of blacks in urban areas.

Eight blacks were charged with possession of stolen property, five with public violence, four with possession of marijuana and one with illegal possession of gasoline.

Police surrounded the township Thursday morning and began stopping cars and buses moving in and out of the area.

The police action followed the government's massive crackdown last month on opponents of its apartheid policy of racial segregation. On Oct. 18, the government banned 18 black organizations, closed two blackoriented newspapers and detained more than 60 persons.

Also Thursday, American U.N. Ambassador Andrew Young told the governing board of the National Council of Churches in New York that South African Prime Minister John Vorster must be living a hell on earth because of apartheid.

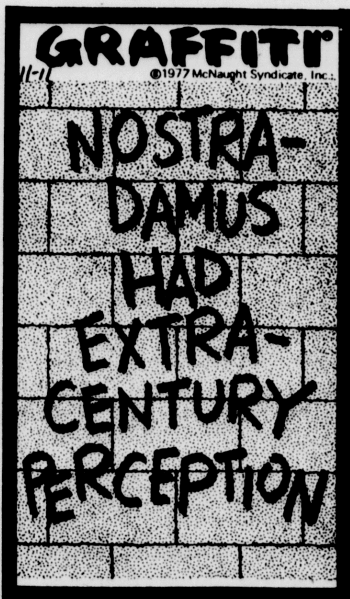

Young said the mandatory arms embargo ordered by the U.N. Security Council after the October crackdown was "the first serious opposition to apartheid." He said he hoped that action would bring about change in South Africa.

Bulletin

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) A freight train loaded with chemical products exploded in a South Korean railroad station late today, killing an unknown number of persons and injuring about 300, police said.

The blast occurred shortly after 9 p.m. in Iri, 120 miles south of Seoul, rattling the city of 120,000 and touching off fires in about 500 houses and buildings, police said.

About 20 fire engines were mobilized to fight the inferno caused by the explosion, which blew the roof off a packed movie theater near the railroad station, they added.

Mrs. Sarah J. Cardi

COLUMBUS — Mrs. Sarah Jane Junk Cardi, 49, wife of Nicholas Cardi, 1520 W. Sixth Ave., Columbus, died at 4:05 p.m. Thursday in Riverside Methodist Hospital, Columbus, where she had been a patient eight weeks.

Mrs. Cardi was employed by the Sears, Roebuck and Co.

Surviving besides her husband, Nicholas, is a son, Nicholas Jr.; a daughter, Susan Goodenow; two grandchildren, Amy and Andy, both of Columbus; her mother, Mrs. Fay (Blanche) Junk of Washington C.H.; eight brothers, John and David Junk of Washington C. H., Robert, Ralph and Harry Junk of Frankfort, Thomas and Sammy, Chillicothe, and Neil of Columbus; two sisters, Nancy Warner of Ashville, and Joanne Cory of Frankfort. She was preceded in death by her father, Fay T. Junk of Washington C.H.

Services will be held at 9 a.m. Monday in the John Quint Funeral Home, 1177 W. Fifth Ave., Columbus.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday. Burial will be in Greenlawn Cemetery, Frankfort, Ohio.

CHESTER KNISLEY — Services for Chester Knisley, 86, of 6 Maple St., Jeffersonville, were held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in the Morrow-Huffman Funeral Home, Jeffersonville, with the Rev. Glenn Williams, minister of the House of Prayer officiating.

Mr. Williams, a retired star mail route carrier for the U. S. Postal Service, died Tuesday.

Three hymns were sung by Mrs. Louise Merritt and Mrs. Virginia Blair, accompanied by Mrs. Gladys Short.

Pallbearers for burial in Fairview Cemetery were Lloyd Gilley, Earl Knisley, Robert Robinson, Lawrence Smith, Donald Miller and Marion Gill.

Mainly About People

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Penrod of 130 Laurel Road, are the parents of a new daughter, not a boy, as erroneously reported by the hospital to The Record-Herald. The infant weighed 7 pounds, 6 ounces, born at 4:05 p. m. Wednesday, in Fayette County Memorial Hospital.

Credit card discrimination eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recent revisions in the federal consumer credit law could open the door for discrimination by merchants and credit card operations, the Federal Trade Commission says.

The FTC and Sen. William Proxmire, chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, are asking that the revisions be withdrawn. The changes were drafted quietly earlier this year by staff members of the Federal Reserve Board.

"The Fed is undermining credit protection by opening the door to immense loopholes," said one FTC staffer. Proxmire complained the

Richard Pryor hit by heart ailment

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Comedian Richard Pryor was in good condition in a hospital's intensive coronary care unit Thursday after suffering what his grandmother said was a heart attack.

The 36-year-old star of such films as "Car Wash" and "Silver Streak" was admitted to the Methodist Medical Center's emergency room about 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Pryor, a former Peoria resident who now lives in Beverly Hills, Calif., suffered chest pains and was taken to the hospital in a private car, according to his grandmother, Marie Bryant.

Pryor had come to Peoria Wednesday to visit his grandmother, who celebrated her birthday over the weekend.

A hospital spokesman at midday described Pryor's condition as "stable and good" but said he would give no further information because of the comedian's request for privacy.

Bomb explodes in southern Israel

Lebanese border rocket fire exchanged

TEL AVIV (AP) -Palestinian and Israeli gunners exchanged rocket and artillery fire on the Lebanese border Friday, and a bomb exploded in southern Israel, slightly wounding a child, police said.

The bomb, planted by terrorists, went off in the town of Qiryat Gat, 40 miles south of Tel Aviv, a spokesman said.

Informed sources in Damascus and a pro-Syrian newspaper in Beirut reported that Syria is pressuring the Palestinians to abide by a cease-fire in southern Lebanon and not give Israel any excuse to launch more strikes across the border.

Both wanted in industrialist's kidnapping

Terrorists wounded in Dutch shootout

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) — Two men badly wounded in a shootout with a police stake-out team in suburban Amsterdam were identified today as West German terrorists sought in the kidnapping and murder of industrialist Hanns-Martin Schleyer.

The federal Criminal Office in Weisbaden, West Germany, said police were sent to Amsterdam and used fingerprints to identify Christoph Wackernagel, 26, a former actor.

He and a man whom Dutch authorities believe to be 33-year-old Rolf Clemens Wagner were arrested after Thursday night's gun-and-grenade battle with police. Amsterdam Prosecutor A.N. Messchaert said Wagner's identification was "almost certain," but there was some doubt because the men carried forged papers.

Police said one man was hit in the chest and stomach and the other in the head. One man reportedly underwent emergency surgery. Three policemen suffered minor injuries.

West German authorities have identified Wackernagel and Wagner as members of the Red Army Faction.

The terrorist band, also known as the Baader-Meinhof gang, claimed responsibility for killing Schleyer, who headed the West German employers association. He was abducted Sept. 5 in Cologne and his body was found in the trunk of a car in Mulhouse, France, on Oct. 19, the day after West German commandos stormed a hijacked Lufthansa jetliner in Somalia, and freed 86 hostages aboard.

Despite reports that police were looking for a woman who fled the scene of Thursday's shooting, Messchaert said: "There were no indications that any more people were involved."

He said police had staked out an apartment in a residential area of western Amsterdam after they stumbled onto the building while hunting the abductors of Dutch multi-millionaire Maurits Caransa.

The prosecutor did not indicate the two wounded suspects were involved in the kidnapping of Caransa, who was released Nov. 2 after payment of a $4.1 million ransom to abductors he described as apolitical. But Messchaert said the team that found the apartment had orders to look for potential terrorist hiding places.

The prosecutor said two men left the apartment Thursday night and 10 detectives followed them to a public telephone booth nearby. Police said the apartment had a telephone and they did not know why the men went outside to make a call.

The two men entered the booth, Messchaert said, and a plain clothes detective approached and asked how long they would be.

One of the men replied in German, "One moment, please," and pulled a pistol, the prosecutor said. He said the man started shooting as uniformed police approached. One of the suspects hurled a grenade, slightly wounding one officer. Police returned fire with rifles.

West German police believe Wackernagel, a theater superintendent's son, first met terrorists in Munich where he was a well-known juvenile actor on German television. He later studied photography and theology.

directors discontinue the Floridian between Chicago and Florida.

The Floridian operates between Chicago and both coasts of Florida, via Nashville, Birmingham and Montgomery. Officials estimate annual losses on the route of $9.6 million.

The corporation earlier had asked Congress for $56.5 million in supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year. While awaiting congressional action, Amtrak announced plans to cancel several trains, including 22 of the 120 operated daily in the busy northeast corridor serving Washington, Philadelphia, New York and Boston.

The letter listed these financially-troubled lines which will be examined for cancellation:

Over 1,100 children enter

City police department announces safety coloring contest winners

Washington C.H. Police Sgt. William Robinson Thursday announced the winners of the "Halloween Safety Witch" coloring contest.

Robinson said 1,180 area children in kindergarten through the fifth grade submitted entries. The children were asked to use creativity in coloring a "Halloween Safety Witch," designed especially for the police department crime prevention unit's safety promotion.

First, second and third place prizes in each grade level were awarded through donations from local businesses.

The entries were judged on originality and were categorized as they were submitted, Robinson said. He added the large number of entries made the selection of winners a difficult and time-consuming task.

The first place winners were each awarded a $25 savings bond Thursday donated by the Huntington Bank, Fayette County Bank and BancOhio-First National Bank.

The winners were kindergarten, Shelly Robbins of New Holland School; first grade, Harry Todd of Good Hope School; second grade, Gretchen Groves of Jeffersonville School; third grade, Angela Cox of Eastside School; fourth grade, Karri Shaffer of Wilson School; and fifth grade, Christy Wright of Cherry Hill School.

The second place winners all received $10 gift certificates through donations from Boylan and Cannon, G. C. Murphy's, Murphy Mart and K-Mart.

Those winners were kindergarten, Jodi Kelley of Madison Mills School; first grade, Allan Van Dyne of Belle Aire School; second grade, J. Taylor Wilson of Belle Aire School; third grade, Deanna Hecoax of New Holland School; fourth grade, Christa Stone of Olive School; and fifth grade, Polly Rich of Good Hope School.

All the third place winners received $5 gift certificates donated by Pizza Hut, McDonald's and Frisch's restaurants.

The third place winners were kindergarten, Jason Stuckey of Eastside School; first grade, Jeneen James of Madison Mills School; second grade, Rick Dillon of Bloomingburg School; third grade, Janet Luman of Olive School; fourth grade, William Bennett of Madison Mills School; and fifth grade, Dee Ann West of Belle Aire School.

Sgt. Robinson said the winning drawings will be placed on display for two to three days at each of the participating banks beginning Monday.

State energy department gets Senate panel's okay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — What was to have been an "umbrella" Ohio Department of Energy to consolidate energy efforts by a proliferation of state agencies has emerged from a Senate subcommittee as a souped up version of the existing Ohio Energy Resources and Development Agency.

Gone from the House-approved measure when recommended Thursday was the Ohio Power Siting Commission, except for one comparatively minor function, and other provisions that would have had the new agency take over key roles of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and of the natural resources department, at one point in the deliberations.

The bill did retain important provisions that would impose coal use taxes of about $13.5 million a year to get Ohio actively involved in coal research, and create a coal research laboratory, envisioned either for Ohio State University in Columbus or Ohio University in Athens.

The energy and public utilities subcommittee, headed by Sen. Neal F. Zimmers Jr., D-Dayton, refused to consider an amendment, proposed by Attorney General William J. Brown, for the department to absorb the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency.

Zimmers said the bill would be presented to his full committee at a meeting next Monday, one day in advance of a three-day legislative session on energy, collective bargaining, and a few other matters left behind when the General Assembly adjourned Oct. 20.

Generally, the idea for an "umbrella" agency — which originated last winter when Ohio was gripped by its coldest weather in a century — did not prove "viable" as various agency spokesmen explained why their present energy functions should be left alone, some lawmakers said.

For instance, Natural Resources Director Robert W. Teater told the subcommittee Tuesday that his geological survey division should remain in DNR because it serves some industries not related to coal or energy. The division would have gone into the new agency, under an ill-fated amendment then before the subcommittee.

Opinion And Comment

The battered woman

The acquittal of Francine Hughes in the death of her ex-husband does not appear to be a clearcut judicial landmark in the struggle to enhance justice for victims of the battered-wife syndrome. The fact that the jury in Lansing, Mich., exonerated her on grounds of insanity at the time of the crime weakens the case as a precedent.

The trial and its outcome do focus attention on a problem which is far more widespread and serious than had commonly been supposed. The proceedings also emphasize the point that society must somehow come to the defense of women who are repeatedly beaten and otherwise abused.

Trial testimony showed that this was true of Francine Hughes to an agonizing extent over a period of 12 years. While the judge may have been right in suggesting that her history of prolonged and increasingly severe beatings probably was a typical, experiences of this general nature are not rare.

Often women in such a situation have little hope of getting help. Many are ashamed, or afraid, to report their experience. If they do, the response of doctors or police may be to suggest that their behavior, not that of their violent husbands, is the cause of the trouble.

In summation it can fairly be said that the rights of battered women are frequently ignored and rarely upheld as vigorously as might be. We think of ours as a compassionate society concerned about individual rights. Well, then, let that society - through the police, the courts, the social agencies - bring compassion to bear on this problem.

A WORD EDGEWISE...By John P. Roche

Liberal realism vs. the 'trend'

From reading the chic press you get the impression "conservatives" have been having a field day. "They" got the United States to behave in a beastly fashion to the International Labor Organization by pulling out and taking a quarter of the ILO's funds. "They" passed a bill, signed by the president, barring aid to Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia and Uganda. "They" behaved in a churlish manner by analyzing and criticizing the administration's SALT initiatives before the latter had been formally announced.

Since all of these nefarious activities have been sponsored by my friends, I have reached the conclusion chic journalists need a new dictionary: what they designate "conservative" is in fact simple liberal realism. Or maybe they would classify Jack Kennedy, Bobby Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson as "conservatives"?

I find this particularly bemusing because until about three weeks ago I was getting the leather as a "conservative" for compulsively worrying about Soviet hunter-killer satellites. Gosh, Lennie Brezhnev would never dream of such dirty pool; blinding us would violate the norms of detente to which he has dedicated his life, honor and political fortune. Then suddenly Secretary of Defense Harold Brown rescued me from "conservatism" by admitting the truth of my allegation.

Let us examine this semantic quagmire in more detail. Senator Jacob Javits and others, notably trendy elements in the foreign policy establishment, deplored our departure from the ILO. "Another capitulation to mean old Meany" ran the Washington chorus - we should have stayed in as perpetual losers rather than walk out. I admit I have never been a "good loser." (Indeed, if you show me a good loser, I'll show you - a loser.) However, if we could have hung around the ILO to raise some hell, without paying admission, I'd be for it.

In other words, if the Communist powers and the Third World want a rhetorical playground, that's their business. But I see no reason for us to subsidize it. Few people realize how cheap Moscow is. Do you know, for example, that all recent Third World demands for economic "reparations" from the "rich nations" have been ignored by the Soviet bloc? Since they have never been imperialists, they owe nobody nothing. The Third World, operating on the sensible principle you don't try to blackmail a "Godfather," saves its barbs for the conscience-stricken West.

Thus if the Soviets and their playmates want to convert the ILO and other UN agencies - UNESCO comes to mind - into centers of anti-American agit-prop, let them pick up the tab. There is surely nothing "conservative" about the proposition that we should refuse to help our enemies. I learned that before I knew either "liberals" or "conservatives" existed.

The same principle applies to our refusal to provide foreign aid to Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia and Uganda. In any sane world, you put your money where your interests are. Which in specific terms in 1977-78 means targeting with a rifle, not a shotgun, and helping struggling democracies, notably Greece, Spain and Portugal, all recently restored to the democratic world, all in deep trouble.

In theory, Greece, Spain and Portugal are in line for entry to the European Common Market, but don't stand on one foot waiting for the Northern Europeans to add three more Italys to the German welfare roll. The bill Mr. Carter signed allocated $6.7 billion to foreign aid. This money should be used to advance the cause of freedom in the world, not to provide new Mercedes-Benzes to the rich elites of the Third World. Forgive me if this has a familiar ring: it was the rationale of the Alliance for Progress and the now-forgotten Fraser Amendment to the Foreign Aid charter. It has not become "conservative" over the intervening years.

Finally, on Nov. 1, Paul Nitze, former deputy secretary of defense for LBJ, and a leading figure in an organization - to which I belong - called The Committee on the Present Danger, held a press conference to analyze in detail the weakness of our current draft proposals for a SALT agreement with Moscow.

"WHEN I TELL YOU I WANT NOTHING FOR CHRISTMAS THIS YEAR, I DON'T MEAN NOTHING AT ALL."

Deceptive home insulation ads target of FTC's drive

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Federal Trade Commission, saying consumers are being victimized by misleading claims, is beginning a drive against deceptive advertising of home insulation.

"There are about three million people who have bought insulation since January," said one FTC source. "A lot of those people have bought lousy - sometimes even unsafe - insulation."

The program includes warnings to between 200 and 300 manufacturers and suppliers that they could be subject to civil suits and fines up to $10,000 a day if engaged in such advertising.

"We expect most people to voluntarily change their conduct," said one FTC lawyer. But he said the commission is prepared to subpoena record and initiate civil suits if violations persist.

The commission also is expected to approve within a few weeks a new trade rule which, for the first time, would require the disclosure of substantiated "R-value" ratings both in advertising and packaging.

The R-value is the measure of insulation's ability to prevent heat from escaping. Many manufacturers have voluntarily placed the ratings on packaging.

But the FTC says some R-values are highly exaggerated while others are based on laboratory test conditions instead of normal use. Claims of energy savings, the FTC says, must be "ordinarily attainable" in the area where the advertising is disseminated.

Since last April, when President Carter proposed a tax break for homeowners installing insulation, demand has skyrocketed and major producers have been hard pressed to keep pace.

At the same time, scores of new, small companies have entered the market, particularly in the production of cellulose insulation where the initial investment is relatively low.

Three major manufacturers of fiberglass insulation testified before Congress last week that a shortage of insulation was expected for another three years and that all suppliers are using allocation systems because they are unable to meet demands.

Patrick Kelly of the FTC's consumer protection bureau said those kinds of market conditions make the industry a target for marketing and advertising abuses.

The major evidence of abuse, he said, involve exaggerated R-values. But some producers also are not giving adequate warning of possible safety hazards, such as the highly flammable nature of cellulose products not treated with special fire retardants.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Girl reminds boys of their mothers

DEAR ABBY: All the boys at school confide in me like I was their mother or something. They're always asking my advice on how to get dates with some of the really neat girls they have a crush on.

Is there some witty or catchy phrase I can throw out to let them know that I am available?

Also, my folks are taking me to Hawaii over the Christmas holiday, and I'd like to lose about 30 pounds in a month. I'd sure like to look cute for the trip, so please hurry your answer. Sign me

PUDGY

DEAR PUDGY: One problem at a time, starting with the one that's probably responsible for the others. You can lose weight by going on a serious diet under a doctor's supervision, but don't expect to shed 30 pounds in 30 days. It took you longer than that to pile it on.

Boys treat you like their mothers because you probably remind them of THEIRS. When you look more like a girl they want to date, they'll realize that you are "available" and you won't need a catchy phrase with which to catch them.

DEAR ABBY: I am a registered nurse who has worked for a competent physician for 15 years.

Every hour at least one person calls and says, "I have a virus. Ask the doctor if I can run in on my lunch hour for a shot."

Abby, what this country needs is a sidewalk booth operated on the same principle as a cigarette machine. The patient could deposit a coin, stick his arm in the slot, select his own medication and get a shot.

People keep asking, "Whatever happened to the good old-fashioned family doctor who made house calls?"

Well, I'd like to know whatever happened to the good old-fashioned trusting patients who let the doctor diagnose the case and prescribe the treatment?

SANTA MONICA

DEAR SANTA: The old-fashioned family doctor was succeeded by a new breed who found he could practice more effectively in his office or in a hospital. And the "old-fashioned patient" has yielded to a generation mostly covered by medical insurance - with a tendency to overuse medical care.

DEAR ABBY: I am one of those people who eat like a horse and never put on a pound. Most of my friends tell me I'm too thin, and someone is always giving me a remedy that will fatten me up. I have tried everything, but I can't seem to gain.

I've had people I hardly know walk up to me, stretch their fingers around my waist, and say, "Gee, you're skinny!" They'd never walk up to a fat person and say, "Gee, you're fat!"

I have been hurt so many times by these rude remarks. Will you please give me a good snappy comeback that will put them in their place?

TOO THIN

DEAR TOO THIN: Silence is often the most effective response to a rude remark. But do see a doctor, dear. He may enjoy "fattening someone up" for a change.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, Nov. 11, the 315th day of 1977. There are 50 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1918, World War I ended with the signing of an armistice in French Marshal Foch's railway car in the forest of Compiegne, France.

On this date:
In 1620, the Pilgrims signed a compact aboard the Mayflower while anchored off Cape Cod.

In 1889, the state of Washington became the 42nd state in the Union.

In 1921, the Washington disarmament conference convened in the U.S. capital.

In 1933, the first of the great dust storms of the 1930s swept across North Dakota.

In 1942, in World War II, the Germans completed their occupation of France.

In 1971, the U.S. Senate ratified a treaty to return the island of Okinawa to Japan.

Ten years ago: President Lyndon Johnson challenged North Vietnam to meet with American representatives aboard a neutral ship to talk peace.

Five years ago: The U.S. Apollo 17 astronauts made a safe landing on the moon.

One year ago: Artist Alexander Calder died in New York at the age of 78.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 12

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Some misunderstandings possible in unexpected areas. Counteract with poise, tact and a sincere desire to clear the air.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

A day which should lift your spirits considerably. Personal relationships should be highly congenial, with romance accented during the p.m. hours.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

In dealings with others, don't resort to brevity or abruptness of speech when full explanations are truly needed. Do your best to really "communicate."

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Once you know your ideas have good potentialities for success, lose no time in putting them into effect. Good lunar influences should help you.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Most endeavors should prosper, but think before you speak or act. Above all, avoid tendencies toward the unorthodox; to extremes in general.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Personal matters may need revising. Look for better answers. A state of readiness needed to cope with the unexpected.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Your personal ambitions may be dependent on some trends indicated in the day's news. Adjustments are bound to follow.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Better than ordinary advantages for you, but don't force issues. In all things, look below the surface. Don't be taken in by superficialities.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

You may have mixed feelings about some matters, a sense of confusion. Take sufficient time to know what is expected of you and how best to go about it. And DON'T worry.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Stars favor a new approach to difficult problems, consolidation of gains made in the past. Start looking now - for improved returns.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Personal relationships in excellent favor. Social or business get-togethers resultful. You should have a good day.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Mixed influences. Question and investigate where there is margin for error. Do not accept suggestions blindly. And do not expect more than is reasonable.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with keen mental faculties - often tending toward the investigative and inventive. Also, your words and writings may tend toward the unusual, to be picture-phrased - and this quality, coupled with your natural joyousness of expression, would lend exceptional beauty and appeal to your writing, should you take up authorship as a career. You have an affinity for science, too, and may have a positive genius for mechanics so, given a fair education, there are many fields open to your talents. Try to avoid tendencies to be sharp-spoken with those of lesser ability than yourself.

Catholic leaders to approve new teaching guidelines

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — After the most extensive consultative process in the history of U.S. Roman Catholicism, the church's bishops next week are expected to approve new guidelines for teaching the faith.

The 254-page National Catechetical Directory, five years in the making, is the first of its kind to be developed by the American church.

It offers norms and recommendations for religious education of "all Catholics in the United States in our times," from childhood through adult life, says the project director, Msgr. Wilfrid H. Paradis of Washington, D.C.

Although still subject to minor alterations before adoption by a meeting in Washington of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, and later confirmation by the pope, the document already has gone through its long, preliminary stages.

That involved hundreds of meetings with educators, theologians, pastors and people in nearly every diocese, thousands of written criticisms and suggestions, and numerous redraftings and versions.

Altogether, more than 90,000 detailed suggestions have come from more than 280,000 people, nuns, priests and laity, with more than 15,000 diocesan meetings held about the contents in ironing them out.

A mixed, lay-religious committee of 12 did the winnowing work, under review of seven bishops, headed by Archbishop John F. Whealon of Hartford. The work now goes to the bishops for finishing touches and acceptance.

It is not a textbook or curriculum, but it sets basic guideposts and principles for imparting devotion to God's truth in the modern world.

Incorporating the insights of modern psychology and the linking of learning with experience at various age levels, the document reflects changes developing for the last decade in church teaching methods.

The approach departs sharply from the 1884 Baltimore catechism, which consists of 421 questions and answers, to be committed to memory.

It was the main influence in Catholic education in this country for nearly 80 years, until the reforms of the Second Vatican Council of 1962-65.

Teaching of the young today "bears little resemblance to the ways in which their parents received religious instruction," the new directory says, noting that this aroused some objections in developing the guidelines.

These complaints, mainly insisting on fixed doctrinal formulas, have received "serious attention" in shaping the directory, it says. But it upholds openness to experimental methods and varying theological emphasis.

Arabs revert to Islam

By ALEX EFTY
Associated Press Writer
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Disillusioned by both Western liberalism and socialist doctrine, some Arab states are reverting to Islamic fundamentalism, to the point where conversion to communism could be punishable by death.

The same fate is being proposed for those switching from Islam to other religious faiths.

Such drastic changes would come about through the adoption of Sharia, the law as laid down in the Koran (the Moslem bible), as the state's legal code.

At least two Arab states, Egypt and its southern ally and neighbor, Sudan, both virulently anti-communist, have appointed special committees of parliamentarians and Moslem scholars to draft a new legal code about it based on Sharia.

The Egyptian committee has already drafted a law making apostasy, the renunciation of Islam, punishable by death.

This would automatically transform all communists, whose political creed rejects the existence of any god, into would-be death-cell inmates.

Chapel appoints new pastor

The Rodgers Chapel A.M.E. Church, 325 N. Main St., has announced the appointment of Rev. Samuel E. Leach, Sr., as the new pastor.

Born in Birmingham, Ala., Rev. Leach attended public schools there and attended Talladega (Ala.) College following service in the U.S. Navy during World War II. He moved to Cleveland in the late 1940s and then to Cincinnati in 1951.

The 51-year-old minister graduated from the University of Cincinnati in 1968, which is also the year he received the call to preach. He has pastored churches in Delhi and Milford.

The father of two sons, Rev. Leach is currently a special education teacher at Oyler School, where he teaches seventh grade students with learning disabilities.

The new pastor of Rodgers Chapel says he loves people and is very happy to be associated with the loving people of Washington C.H.

Special events

SAMANTHA
The Samantha Free Will Baptist Church, U.S. 62 at Ohio 72, is sponsoring a songfestival at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 12.

The special singers will be the Brown Trio of Otway and the Billy Adamson Duet of Manchester.

Area residents are welcome to attend.

WASHINGTON C.H.
The All Nations Church of Christ, 1217 Forest St., begins a series of three weekend revival meetings at 7 p.m. Friday.

The theme for the series of special worship services is "I Present Jesus to You." This weekend's speakers include: Elder Willie Perkins, Evangelist Mary Jane Freeman and Sister Ruth Robinson.

The congregation has extended a welcome to all area residents to attend the services.

Members of Grace United Methodist Church, 301 E. Market St., are presenting the Capital University Chapel Choir in concert Sunday, Nov. 13, at 7:30 p.m.

The choir consists of 52 singers and is conducted by Dr. Lewis E. Whitehart, a professor at the university's Conservatory of Music.

The concert will also include arrangements by the 16-voice Chamber Singers ensemble, which emphasizes Renaissance and contemporary music. Their repertoire includes the works of De Lassus, Bennett, Charles Ives, Brant, Jergensen, Lockwood and Menotti.

The Chapel Choir will feature Hugo Distler's major work, "Christmas Story." Their presentation will also include such contemporary American composers as Randall Thompson, Vernon Knight and Dr. Whitehart.

A free will offering will be taken to defray the cost of bringing the choir to Fayette County.

Revival services will begin Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Wesleyan Holiness Church, 6181 Washington-Waterloo Road.

The special singing and preaching will be conducted by the Rev. Fred Bales family. Rev. Bales is well-known to holiness churches in this area, according to the Wesleyan Holiness Church Pastor Robert M. Pratt.

The public is invited to attend the services.

Gamma Chapter holds meeting

The home of Mrs. Patsy Bryant was the setting for the meeting of the Gamma Chapter, Phi Beta Psi. Mrs. Liz Wright and Mrs. Karen French were the assisting hostesses.

President Chris Roszmann called the meeting to order and reports were presented. Mrs. Carmen Johnson reported the Christmas party will be Dec. 5 at the Washington Country Club.

The social hour will begin at 6 and the dinner at 7 p.m. Reservations must be made by Nov. 28 with Mrs. Charmaine Don Kirk or Mrs. Linda Polson.

Miss Ellis honored at bridal shower

An enjoyable evening was held by all when a miscellaneous bridal shower was given for Miss Joyce Ellis, bride-elect of Michael Pierson in the lovely country home of Mrs. Hugh Morris, 1141 Miami Trace Road.

Games were conducted and Miss Ellis then received a corsage before opening an array of gifts. She graciously thanked everyone.

The refreshment table, covered with a linen cloth, and centered with a fall flower arrangement, had crystal appointments. The centerpiece was presented to Miss Ellis by the hostess.

Those in attendance were Miss Marie Marchant, Mrs. Kathy McWilliams, Mrs. Mary Lou Joseph, Mrs. Eleanor Mossbarger, Mrs. Annalee McWilliams, Mrs. Judy Rambo, Mrs. Annalee Smith, Mrs. Nell Hughes, Mrs. Charles Ellis and Mrs. James Pierson, mothers of the couple, Miss Ellis, and the hostess.

BPW schedules Mrs. Walker

The Washington C. H. Business and Professional Women's Club dinner-meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Washington Country Club. The program has been planned by the Public Relations Committee with Mrs. Thelma Fenton and Mrs. Janet Kelly, co-chairman.

Mrs. Dorothy Walker of Wilmington will present a patriotic monologue entitled "Uncle Sam." Mrs. Walker has been presenting this program for several years, and writes her own material. Club members are urged to attend this meeting, as those who have heard Mrs. Walker say it will be a very interesting program.

Music for the evening will be provided by Mrs. Doris Diffendal, Mrs. Billie Underwood and Mrs. Dorothy Giebelhous.

Members of the committee along with Mrs. Fenton and Mrs. Kelley are Mary Margaret Merritt, Regina DelPonte, Ruth Sexten and Doris Diffendal.

The new pledges, Mrs. Cindy Lewis, Mrs. Karen Lowe, Mrs. Carol Heinz, Mrs. Connie Yambor, Mrs. Beth Wilson, Mrs. Judy Pool, Mrs. Vicki Ream and Mrs. Ruth Stayrook, presented a humorous skit to the group.

Mrs. Cinda Stinson displayed several handcrafted items to the group from the Primitive Shop in Chillicothe, for ideas for the craft booth at the Antique Show.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The January 9th meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Rita Persinger.

Marguerite Class

Fourteen members answered roll call when the Marguerite Class of the First Presbyterian Church assembled Tuesday. Several members were absent, due to working at the polls, including Mrs. Jenkins, the class teacher.

Mrs. Dorothy Dellinger opened with the reading, "November Stillness." Miss Lorie Robison read an interesting article entitled "God's Chosen Ones." She also read from the book of Colossians. Reports were heard.

Mrs. Florence Cook, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of officers unanimously accepted by the group: President-Mrs. Frank Dellinger; Vice President-Mrs. William Rogers; Secretary-Mrs. Fred Rost; Assistant Secretary-Mrs. Luke Musser; Treasurer-Mrs. Lowell Miller; Assistant Treasurer-Mrs. George Campbell; Press Reporter-Mrs. Fulton Alkire; Assistant Reporter-Mrs. Kenneth Craig.

The class will prepare Thanksgiving baskets, and a motion was made that the class purchase two poinsettias for the sanctuary for Christmas.

The Christmas party will be Dec. 15 (Thursday), due to a conflict in dates. There will also be a gift exchange.

A dessert course was served from a lace covered table, centered with a colorful fall arrangement of flowers, flanked by gold candles.

Mrs. Ruth Chaney and Mrs. John Sagar Sr., were the hostesses.

Major Samuel Myers chapter, D of 1812

Major Samuel Myers Chapter, Daughters of 1812, will meet at 2 p.m. Monday, Nov. 14, with Mrs. C. P. Wagner. Election of delegates to state and National Council is on the agenda.

A most interesting program has been arranged by the committee. The Rev. Philip Brooks, associate minister of Grace United Methodist Church, will deliver a Thanksgiving message.

Assisting hostesses are Mrs. Henry Engle, Mrs. Worley Melvin, Mrs. Karl Kellenberger, Mrs. Gilbert Adams, Dr. Bernice O'Brian, Mrs. Thomas Parrett and Miss Nancy Teeka.

Buena Vista Aid plans for holidays

The meeting of the Buena Vista Ladies Aid Society took place in the Buena Vista Township Hall, when a carry-in dinner was a feature at the noon hour. Mrs. Donald Eakins and son, Bill, were guests for the occasion. Mrs. Bina Rude gave the invocation preceding the meal.

Mrs. Albert Haines conducted the business meeting following the social hour and Mrs. Noah Lee the devotions. She read from the Book of Deuteronomy. Each answered roll call by telling what Thanksgiving is all about.

Mrs. Eakins was also welcomed as a new member by those present: Mrs. Albert Haines, Mrs. Eddie Corzatt, Mrs. Noah Lee, Mrs. Harlan Johnson, Mrs. Richard Carson and Mrs. Rude. Activities reported were seven cards, six flowers, eleven calls and one donation. Plans for the annual Christmas party at 6 p.m. Dec. 14, were made, and for gifts of cheer to the nursing homes and shutins for the holidays.

Phi Beta Psi

The annual Phi Beta Psi Christmas party for all active, inactive and associate members will be held Dec. 5 at the Washington Country Club. The social hour will begin at 6 with dinner at 7 p.m.

Reservations must be made no later than Nov. 28 with either Mrs. Jim Polson (335-4239) or Mrs. Don Kirk (335-8046).

Associates are asked to make their reservations with their respective chapter presidents.

MISS SHEILA JOHNSON

Marriage announced

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Skala, 7438 Fields Rd., Chagrin Falls, formerly of Washington C. H., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Katherine M., to Thomas L. Decker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Decker of Columbus.

The new bride, a graduate of Miami Trace High School, Ohio University and Ohio State University, is a special education teacher in the Circleville School system. Her husband, a graduate from Upper Arlington High School and Ohio State University, is an actuary for the Watson-Hill Company in Columbus. The couple is now residing in Grandview Heights, Columbus.

Jaycee paper drive is set for Saturday

The Washington C. H. Jaycee Chapter will be holding its weekly paper drive from 10 a.m. until noon Saturday at the Seaway parking lot on Clinton Ave.

Anyone having newspapers, catalogs and magazines are urged to bring them to the collection site where the Jaycees will be on hand to unload the cars.

The Jaycee red paper shed is located at the east end of the Seaway parking lot where paper may be dropped off at the convenience of Jaycee paper savers. The shed is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Serving as chairman of the paper drive committee is Leroy Farris.

Washington Garden Club program is about 'Herbs'

Mrs. Eulalia Wade was hostess when the Washington Garden Club met this week. Mrs. Herb Daves presented the program, "Herbs to Keep and Use in the Winter." She told of many medicinal uses for various herbs, as well as for fragrance and cooking.

She said that since ancient times herbs have possessed a fascination. Herbs have been used in teas, cooking and medicine and even for decoration. Today they not only produce abundant and radiant foliage, but many an herb is still used to enhance a chef's masterpiece. However, not all herbs can be used for cooking, some are grown strictly for their fragrance and decorative purpose and appearance.

Today's culinary herbs are used not only as added flavoring in cooking, but also to make herb butters, jellies, vinegars, and even herb candies. Herbs are a very interesting plants.

Books on herbs recommended were Herbs and Things, Rose's Herbal, and Better Health with Culinary Herbs.

Mrs. Donald Meredith opened the meeting with the poem, "The Lord God Planted a Garden," by Dorothy

Engagement announced

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Sheila Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Winter of 906 Millwood Ave., to Stephen Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williamson, Rt. 1, Greenfield.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Washington Senior High School, is employed by Calmar International Diamond Division. Her fiancé, a graduate of Miami Trace High School, is employed by Sugar Creek Packing Company.

The wedding will be an event of Jan. 21, in the First Church of the Nazarene.

Willing Workers of Bookwalter meet

Mrs. Martha Allen was hostess when members of the Bookwalter Willing Workers met in her home. Mrs. Lillian Ervin was in charge of devotions. The Twenty-Third Psalm, and The Lord's Prayer were recited in unison.

"Thanksgiving Time" by Edna Jaques and "November Stillness" by Clarice Williams were read by Mrs. Allen.

Reports were made by Mrs. Marilyn Marks and Mrs. Jean Warner, who gave the card report. New committees for the monthly meetings were named, and the next meeting will be Dec. 1 with a $1.50 gift exchange at the Terrace Lounge.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Esther Stockwell. Members present were Mrs. Lois Coe, Mrs. Carmel Bowsher, Mrs. Leona Edwards, Mrs. Mary Himmelsbach, Mrs. Lillian Ervin, Mrs. Marks, Mrs. Warner, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Stockwell, Mrs. Florence Seibert and Mrs. Agnes Ford.

All-day workshop set by Posy Club

The Posy Garden Club has planned an all-day workshop beginning at 10 a.m. instead of 1 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 16, in the home of Mrs. Albert Bihl.

Members are asked to bring a sack lunch, and to note the change of the time for the workshop.

Frances Gurney.

Each answered a tree, vine, shrub or bush, a part of one to be used in a Thanksgiving arrangement, for tables or general arrangement.

Reports were made noting that pecans will be sold by members, and the Spring Regional meeting was announced for April 19, at the Madison County Lake Chocktaw Lodge, and Gardener's Day Out for Sept. 20 at Hywett Hall in Akron.

A spring bulb sale, offered by the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs, is on now. Orders will be taken by members.

Mrs. Jean Barnhart, Mrs. Meredith, Mrs. Dale Merritt, Mrs. Mary Hurtt and Mrs. Robert Wilson will attend the fall regional meeting in Xenia on Nov. 10.

Mrs. Rita Pettit was a guest for the day.

The Christmas party and dinner and $2 gift exchange will be held Dec. 6 in Staunton Fellowship Hall.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. Margaret Willis. Mrs. Barnhart was winner of the door prize.

Fresh fruits and vegetables chase the blues

WASHINGTON, D. C. - More and more people are living alone today. Since 1970, the number of Americans in single-person households has jumped 48 per cent to the present high of 15.5 million. Close to half of them are elderly, while young adults comprise much of the remainder.

Good nutrition can be a casualty of this dramatic shift in lifestyles. Cooking varied, balanced meals for oneself can seem like too much of a chore. Consequently, there may be a tendency to rely heavily on sandwiches or heat-and-serve foods. For single senior citizens, the problem of eating well is often compounded by limited income. Whatever the result may be a diet deficient in some of the nutrients essential for good health.

Eating lots of fresh fruit and vegetables, however, is an appealing and economical way to put healthful vitamins and minerals into the daily diet. They offer both convenience and wide variety at a modest price.

Buying in small quantities is easy with fresh. Many varieties can be purchased one or two at a time. If they come wrapped in the supermarket, the produce manager will break up a package to suit individual needs.

And, while some commodities such as berries and mushrooms are highly perishable, most fresh fruits and vegetables will last up to a week if kept under the proper conditions.

The vegetable association recommends that lettuce, for example, be kept cold and humid. Potatoes and onions should be kept in separate, cool, dry places. Should potatoes begin to look tired, boil them in their jackets and refrigerate. They'll be handy for mashing, frying or cubing into salads.

Preserve fresh, peeled garlic cloves in a small jar of vegetable oil. Parsley and watercress keep best placed stem down in a container of water in the refrigerator.

The same fresh vegetable or fruit can be eaten in several different ways, too.

Part of a head of cauliflower, for instance, may be cooked as a side dish. Use the rest raw in salads or with a dip for a delicious snack. Leafy greens such as lettuce and romaine are tasty stir-fried with minced onion and fresh

Nuclear agency wanted to crash a 707 to test atomic container

By JACK ANDERSON
WASHINGTON — Two years ago, we reported that the nuclear industry was hauling lethal radioactive materials around the country in vulnerable casks. Trucks, trains and planes carried the deadly cargo into heavily populated areas.

The shipments were authorized by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission which has spent millions, meanwhile, trying to develop a safer nuclear container. Much of the effort has been devoted to a feud with the rival Energy Research and Development Administration over safety standards.

Internal documents show that the multi-million-dollar research, so far, has been a comedy of errors. For awhile, the commission toyed with the idea of crashing a Boeing 707 to test the durability of a sample container. Officials even approached the Pentagon brass about procuring two suitable planes for the test crashes.

This scheme was abandoned by less venturesome souls, who felt it might become too expensive to wreck perfectly good jet airplanes. Less spectacular tests, however, were conducted.

Last April, the internal reports show that a supposedly "failsafe" cask was badly damaged during a routine test. Hasty repairs were made, but the cask also failed a second round of examinations.

The delay provoked Commissioner Richard Kennedy into writing an exasperated memo. After two years, he complained, there was still "no acceptable design package" for the nuclear casks.

Footnote: A spokesman assured us that the agency plans to have completed its final container standards by "the end of the year." Rep. James Scheuer, D-N.Y., has led a congressional effort to improve nuclear safety standards.

Carter vs. Press: Lobbyists wishing to rub elbows with White House insiders paid $250 apiece the other day to hear presidential pollster Patrick Caddell answer their questions about his eminent client, Jimmy Carter. Caddell was the featured speaker at a private fund-raising dinner for Rep. Andy Ireland, D-Fla. Over filet mignon, brandy and expensive cigars, they bombarded the pollster with questions.

Did the president, one businessman asked, look upon the press as an enemy? Caddell acknowledged that Carter has never been one of the media's "favorite people." Added the pollster: "They're tough on each other."

Caddell said that Carter is an "activist" president, who has taken unpopular but necessary stands on controversial issues. The pollster warned, for example, that the public doesn't yet comprehend the full impact of the energy crisis.

Electric Charge: A Texas firm has been falsifying government statistics in an effort to peddle its electric vans.

The company, Jet Industries, has been ballyhooing the results of tests conducted last year by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. But the figures that Jet has been promoting bear little resemblance to the NASA tests.

For example, Jet claims its electric van can travel 101 miles at 31 miles per hour without a battery recharge, while NASA found it could go only 70 miles at 20 miles per hour. And NASA never even performed some tests that Jet publicized in its promotional material.

Jet's president, William Bales, insisted he didn't know his figures were wrong. But he conceded that his promotional material included results of tests done by his company, not

NASA, although this is not clearly indicated in its sales literature. Bales told our reporter Valerie Strauss: "We didn't mean to deceive or mislead anyone."

Meanwhile, an Energy Department official has been helping to promote the Jet van on the basis of the false figures. Walter Dippold wrote a letter to Jet praising its van as "superior," "impressive," and "especially remarkable." Dippold, it should be noted, was one of the officials who helped award a government contract to Jet to build electric vans.

Dippold told us he didn't know the figures were wrong or that Jet would use its letter to hawk its van. But once he found out, he admitted, "I didn't tell them they couldn't use it." Industry sources, however, told us Dippold is "too friendly" with Jet.

Footnote: NASA officials confirmed to us that Jet is claiming its van can go faster and farther than NASA found it could.

Salad Dressing: The Food and Drug Administration has come under fire for trying to allow manufacturers to use cheaper substitutes in ice cream. But now the agency is doing the same thing for nearly 100 other foods, including yogurt, skim milk, mayonnaise, salad dressing, and mozzarella cheese.

Rep. Charles Rose, D-N.C., has warned FDA chief Donald Kennedy in an angry letter that he may sue FDA because "you have violated statutory limits that may be made only by Congress." FDA has failed to protect consumers from "economic adulteration, by which less expensive ingredients are substituted," Rose charges. This illegal policy is "benefiting only the food industry...not consumers."

The FDA says it has the legal authority to set food standards, and that it will result in lower prices with no drop in nutritional quality. Consumer groups, however, say the industry will keep the extra profits and that foods such as ice cream won't taste the same.

Courses slated for new mayors

NEW YORK (AP) — Eighteen newly elected mayors, including Ed Koch of New York City, have decided to go to college to learn about the problems of running a city.

They will attend a five-day session at Harvard University Nov. 17-21 to hear lectures by Harvard faculty members and urban affairs experts, the U.S. Conference of Mayors announced Wednesday.

The mayors' group, which is sponsoring the seminar, said topics will include how to form transition teams, financial management, economic development, citizen participation, and labor relations.

Although other seminars have been held for mayors, this will be the first one specifically geared toward mayors-elect or recently elected mayors.

Besides Koch, those who have accepted invitations to attend are: Mayors-elect Charles Royer of Seattle; Ron Bair of Spokane; Mike Parker of Tacoma; Phillip J. Richey of Youngstown, Ohio; Doug deGood of Toledo, Ohio; Ken Harris of Charlotte, N.C.; David Rusk of Albuquerque, N.M.; Charles B. O'Reilly of Dearborn, Mich.; Theodore Dimauro, of Springfield, Mass.; William Stansbury, of Louisville, Ky.; James Amato, of Lexington, Ky.; Charles Whitlock of Lakewood, Colo.; and mayors Hugh Farmer of Ft. Worth, Texas; Carole McClellan of Austin, Texas; Thomas F.X. Smith, of Jersey City; James Conway of St. Louis, and Mayor Arnold I. Rue of Stockton, Calif.

Two CB radio theft reports investigated

Two citizen band radios were stolen in separate incidents Thursday, according to Washington C.H. Police Department reports.
Lewis E. Rittenhouse, 39, 2574 Staunton-Sugar Grove Road, reported to police officers a Cobra model citizen band radio was stolen from his vehicle while it was parked in the K-Mart parking lot off Columbus Avenue between noon and 12:10 p.m. Thursday.
According to a police report, the word "chickenhouse" and Rittenhouse's social security number were written on the outside of the radio. Also, the words "to repairman, if anybody brings this in for repairs, it is hot" were

Cleveland crime squad established

CLEVELAND (AP) — The FBI has established a second organized crime "target squad" in Cleveland to deal with crimes by public officials, gambling and loansharking.
Among the squad's first targets are the Cleveland Board of Education and a Cleveland police sergeant.
The school board investigation involves possible kickback and bid-fixing schemes on food services and other contracts totaling more than $100 million. The Justice Department's antitrust division is taking part in the investigation.

In the police bribery case, Sgt. Richard Moritz, 43, and Municipal Court Bailiff Emanuel Porter, 47, are charged with soliciting a $2,000 bribe to fix a vehicular homicide case.
FBI agent Patrick T. Laffey was transferred from Washington D.C. to head the unit. His squad was created under the bureau's $2.5 million reorganization of its Cleveland office.

Sells on Premises

Located: Seven miles north of Washington C.H., Ohio, 3 miles south of Jeffersonville, Ohio at the Parrett Lane, 7389 SR 41 N. Jefferson Twp., Fayette County, Ohio.

SHOW DATE: SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 2:00-4:00 P.M.

A wonderful size acreage to expand your operation or for someone wanting a small farm. This two story, thick wall brick (over 100 yrs. old) does have possibilities. Basically a seven room home (three up) with full bath. Partial basement. 60 Amp. Electric service. Dug well and cistern. Several mature Maple and Pine trees. One car garage.

The 52.20 Acres lay level to gently sloping with much black soils. Approximately 45 acres tillable. A 50 ft. railroad right of way runs through the eastern portion of the farm. Fences average. Access to the entire farm by a 24 ft. lane owned by deed. Half Tax $152.42.

INTERESTING HISTORY
The brick residence and farm have served for several generations of the Parrett family as home. Most recently Ona, and the late Gale Parrett. This farm was originally part of the 1,000 acres purchased by John Parrett as part of the Revolutionary War Land Grants. The Southern Pines near the home were gifts of the local grocers, when bills were paid.

We invite you to really study this farm and today's prices and encourage you to attend this sale. Sells to the highest bidder with full possession on passing of warranty deed.

TERMS: $5,000.00 day of sale, balance in thirty days.

Springer top candidate for Cincy mayor's post

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gerald Springer, whose political career seemed on the rocks because of a sex scandal 3½ years ago, appears as one of the front-runners to be Cincinnati's next mayor.

The Charter-Democrat Coalition extended its control over Republicans by taking seven of the nine seats on Cincinnati City Council. The majority party names the mayor from its ranks.

Formerly, the top job went to the leading vote-getter. However, in recent years, the independent Charter party and the Democrats have been splitting the two-year term, resulting in Bobbie Sterne becoming the first woman mayor and Theodore M. Berry becoming the first black mayor.

Contenders this year are Democrats Springer, who finished 10,000 votes ahead of the next contender, Mrs. Sterne, James Luken, the current mayor, and Charterite Thomas Brush.

No decision has been made yet by the two parties.

Meanwhile, Springer's career has taken off like a rocket.

"I was absolutely shocked how well I ran," said Springer, 33, a native of New York City.

"It was a weird sensation for me as the results came in and my lead steadily widened. I was pretty confident I would be re-elected, but I had no illusions about leading the field."

"Right now, I'm interested in becoming mayor. I'm not hiding that fact. After that, I really don't know about my future. There are attractive parts about holding either federal or state office," said the one-time unsuccessful congressional candidate.

Springer was in line to become mayor until his involvement in the 1974 sex scandal and subsequent resignation. He quit after a public confession that he had patronized prostitutes at a Northern Kentucky health club.

Focus on People

By GEORGE MALEK
CHAMBER EXECUTIVE

A dollar spent in the community turns over several times before being taken out of circulation. The money paid of an item of clothing may go to a clerk's salary. It then buys groceries, and the grocery clerk uses his salary to buy hardware, and on and on.

Thus, it is vital to retail our retailing dollars. To have residents spend their money locally as much as possible. "What will keep money in the county?" is a difficult question to answer, and is the task of the Chamber's Shop at Home committee.

Chaired by Mrs. Romaine Hughes, the committee consists of Jim Purcell, David Six, Lowell Lively, and Don Leibe. Expansion of the committee is expected shortly.

The committee has met twice to date. They have concluded their first action must be to determine what is causing local residents to shop elsewhere. Various approaches to making such a determination are now being explored.

Once this determination is made, the committee will begin preparing a proposal on how to deal with these problems.

In order to encourage residents to shop locally for Christmas, the committee is also investigating the possibility of repainting a billboard along U.S. 62, north of Washington C.H.

Success by this committee will create job opportunities in the retail community, provide the county with increased sales tax revenue, increase city income tax revenue and provide the incentive (profit) for retail expansion.

Most people don't realize there are nearly 700 business firms in the Fayette County area, and the majority are retailers.

Very few retail goods or services are not available right herein Fayette County.

Deputies check rural car crash

An area youth escaped injury late Thursday when his car collided with a stop sign on Flakes Ford Road at Ohio 753.

Fayette County sheriff's deputies reported 17-year-old Paul R. Dean, 3185 Worthington Road, was attempting to stop at the intersection and ran off the right roadside striking the posted sign.

The youth reportedly stated to sheriff's deputies the brakes on his vehicle grabbed, forcing him off the road. The car sustained minor damages.

Accidents kill fewer Ohioans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fewer Ohioans were killed in traffic accidents during the first nine months of 1977 than during the same period last year, according to the Department of Highway Safety.

Safety Director Robert Chiamonte said 1,281 persons were killed during the period, 117 fewer than during the first nine months of 1976. The number of fatal accidents dropped from 1,236 to 1,141. Both were 8 percent declines.

But Chiamonte said he was "alarmed and disappointed" by increases in the number of fatal crashes due to excessive speed (up by 57 to 261) and drunken driving (up 17 to 186).

Gas leak reported

Washington C.H. firefighters investigated a reported natural gas leak at a N. Hinde Street residence Thursday night.

The suspected leak was reported by Debbie Weller at 213 N. Hinde St. around 8 p.m.

Fire department officials stated the sewer line in the basement of the house was cracked and open causing the gas odor.

The house is owned by Dorothy Myers of Springfield. No damage was reported.

Belmont estate sold

CINCINNATI (AP) — Belmont, the sprawling estate of the Archbishops of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Cincinnati, has been purchased for $350,000 by Donald S. "Buddy" LaRosa.

LaRosa is president of LaRosa's, an Ohio pizza parlor chain.

The late Archbishop Carl Alter, who died earlier this year, was the last resident of the 6.9 acre estate modeled after a palace in Versailles, France.

Cold air to continue

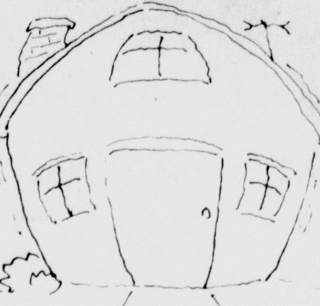

By The Associated Press
Here is the agriculture weather advisory for Ohio provided by the National Weather Service:

Cold air will continue to flow into Ohio from the northwest through Sunday morning. Very windy weather will continue through Saturday afternoon and wind chill will be the main factor limiting outdoor activities. Some snow flurries are indicated across the state tonight and in the northeast on Saturday. Some light accumulation may occur near Lake Erie.

FIELD OPERATIONS — Some sunshine is indicated for Saturday, but working conditions will be uncomfortable due to cold temperatures and windy weather. The wind will have some drying effect on soils. Corn harvest is likely where soils are suitable. Harvesting conditions for soybeans will be generally poor, but winds may dry some fields enough for harvest this weekend.

SERVING THE FAYETTE COUNTY AREA

C.H. at the present time. In the past there has been much discussion about signs which overhang the sidewalk, and I hope each of these businesses will consider a flush building sign.

The first overhanging sign appears so that it can be easily seen from a distance. The sign next to it then must be bigger and brighter to be visible. The next is even bigger and so on.

When all is said and done, everyone was better off when all the signs were flush with the buildings. A voluntary return to flush signs would make the entire area more attractive.

Along the same vein, several buildings have gone to a wood shingle facing or awning. Wouldn't it be attractive if this motif were eventually spread throughout the area.

BUSINESSWISE

Mr. and Mrs. John Spoelker and Tim Rose of Dayton have begun remodeling the former Kentucky Fried Chicken restaurant on Elm Street. They expect to open a Famous Recipe Chicken restaurant at that location Dec. 1.

Sid Terhune's company, Certified Nuts and Bolts, has opened a store on E. Court Street in the old Steele Data Processing building. It marks the first time the firm has been able to accommodate walk-in trade. Several new lines to tools have been added to the firm's hardware offerings.

Allied Technology is holding an open house at its plant in Sabina Nov. 12. The tours of the facility will be conducted from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m., and the public is welcome. The firm which manufactures Fuzzbusters has added smoke detectors to its product line.

Gibbs to end 40-year Armco career

Following a successful, 40-year career in industrial engineering management, George W. Gibbs, supervisor of industrial engineering for the Armco Steel Corp. Building Systems Group, will retire from the post in January.

James R. Hanawalt, general manager of the Armco Steel Corp. Metal Products Division plants in Washington C.H., said Burdette W. Johnson has been promoted to the position of industrial engineering supervisor to fill the vacancy created from the retirement of Gibbs. Gibbs, 704 Highland Ave., joined the Armco Steel Corp. at the Middletown, Ohio plant in 1937. He was named industrial engineer at the Washington C.H. plant in 1962 and was promoted to industrial engineering supervisor in 1974.

A member and past president of the Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club, Gibbs has been active in the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce.

Johnson, 145 Eastview Drive, began his career with the Armco Steel Corp. in 1954. He advanced from the scheduling department to the industrial engineering department in 1958 and progressed through various industrial engineering assignments to become senior industrial engineer in 1976.

Landmark annual meet scheduled for Nov. 16

Robert E. (Bob) Schmidt, vice president and manager of the feed division for Landmark, Inc., in Columbus, will be the featured speaker at the annual meeting of Fayette Landmark Wednesday, Nov. 16.

The annual meeting, to be held beginning at 7 p.m. in the Mahan Building on the Fayette County Fairgrounds, will also feature an operations report from general manager Robert Lawrence. Reservations for the dinner meeting should be completed by 12 noon Tuesday, Nov. 15.

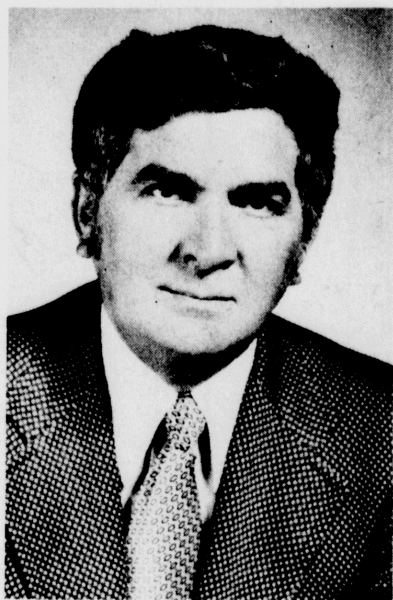

Schmidt, a resident of Delaware, Ohio, supervises all purchasing, manufacturing and distribution functions of Landmark's feed program.

Associated with Landmark since 1954, he served as a feed distribution manager for 15 years prior to his present assignment.

A native of Hamilton County, Schmidt was graduated from the college of agriculture at Ohio State University where he specialized in dairy husbandry.

He is a member of the American Feed Manufacturers Association's board of directors, and has served as chairman of the public relations committee and as chairman of the marketing council of the feed manufacturers association.

Schmidt is past chairman of the retail feed committee of the Ohio Grain, Feed and Fertilizer Association and is a past member of the administrative committee of the Cooperative Feed Research Program. He serves on the board of CF Feeds, Inc., and is also a member of the Masonic Lodge, the Scottish Rite, the Elks and the Columbus Power Boat Squadron.

Cleveland school opinion rendered

CINCINNATI (AP) — Judge Paul C. Weick of the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has issued an opinion questioning how much control U.S. District Judge Frank J. Battisti may exercise over the Cleveland schools in a desegregation case.

Saying he was astounded to see the federal government interfering in state courts, Weick granted a stay Thursday to an order by Battisti against two Cleveland banks that are trying to collect $15.4 million due them from the Cleveland schools.

Cold weather in Ohio will last into the weekend. Brisk winds and temperatures in the 30s were widespread today and were keenly felt after the 60 and 70-degree temperatures of the last several days.

There were snow flurries in most sections Thursday night, especially in northern Ohio.

A strong low pressure system north of the Great Lakes today is pulling cold air out of the Canadian Arctic south across the upper Great Lakes and then swinging it east across Ohio.

High pressure over the central plains will build slowly into the Tennessee Valley by Friday morning.

Snow flurries will continue through tonight, with snow squalls in the northeastern counties, and 1-to 2-inch accumulation is likely in the snow belt areas east of Cleveland by tonight.

Temperatures will drop into the 20s over Ohio tonight and little moderation is likely before early next week.

Sunday through Tuesday: Moderating temperatures with a chance of showers Monday. Highs in the 40s Sunday and in the 50s Monday and Tuesday. Lows in the 20s Sunday morning, rising to the mid 30s to low 40s by Tuesday.

'The Great Conspiracy' theme for local program on Monday

"The Great Conspiracy" is the theme of a speech to be presented by William McIlhany at 8 p.m. Monday at Eastside Elementary School.

McIlhany contends there is a trend toward total government control and it is no accident. He believes there is a conspiracy to build a worldwide dictatorship.

He says there is a growing web of bureaucracy which is slowly seeking to ensnare all facets of American life.

An author and historian, McIlhany has reportedly done extensive research in the Library of Congress, the British Museum, and Le Bibliotheque Nationale in Paris.

"Economic control," he says, "by way of the Federal Reserve system, is just another of the many examples of key government officials creating artificial crises, thereby giving those bureaucrats an excuse to impose more control over so many areas of our lives."

"Wage and price controls only serve to destroy free enterprise which is the backbone of a free people," he contends.

"Federal price controls of natural gas have created a shortage of energy," he adds. "Developers, because of these restrictions, have been unable to seek new sources of natural gas."

McIlhany is also most adamant about the Environmental Protection Agency which he feels is assuming dictatorial proportions.

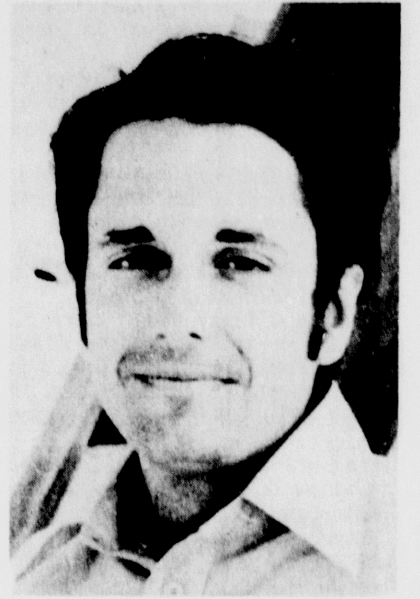

He contends that "all of this adds up to more and more control concentrated into government, and total government control is dictatorship."

McIlhany also sees problems in the international arena.

"Our tax dollars have been given to support Communist revolutionaries on every continent while they attack the United States," he alleges. "In response to these attacks, our diplomats cave in and make agreements to turn over our strategic bases, like the Panama Canal, to the Communist-controlled nations."

McIlhany believes there have been conspiracies that have led to war.

"No war throughout all of recorded history has ever had the full support of all the people, but was created by intrigue and conspiracy," he claims.

He cites the sinking of the Lusitania which involved the United States in World War I and the bombing of Pearl Harbor which caused America's entry into World War II as part of a worldwide conspiracy.

McIlhany, who is the author of three books, has a bachelor's degree in history from Washington and Lee University in Virginia.

His first book, "Klandestine," documents the use of the Ku Klux Klan in an alleged worldwide conspiracy. His second work, "The ACLU on Trial," is a documentary on the American Civil Liberties Union. His most recent book is on the Civil War and the assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

McIlhany's speech Monday is open to the public and there will be a $2 admission charge. The Eastside Elementary School building was rented for the program by the John Birch Society.

Traffic Court

Charged with driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident, a Beech City man was convicted of both offenses Thursday in Washington C.H. Municipal Court.

Eugene D. Wright, 55, of Beech City, was found guilty of the two violations and fined $200 and costs on the drunk driving charge and $50 and costs for leaving the scene of an accident.

Acting Judge Omar Schwart suspended Wright's driver's license for 30 days without granting driving privileges and sentenced him to three days in jail. Judge Schwart told Wright if he chose to attend an alcohol treatment program at Laurel Oaks Treatment Center the jail term would be suspended.

Fayette County sheriff's deputies arrested Wright on the charges shortly after a traffic accident Wednesday night on Creek Road near Flakes Ford Road.

The Municipal Court also received a number of signed waivers for speeding violations during proceedings Thursday.

Vikings slightly favored over Bengals

Tampa Bay picked to end skid

By BRUCE LOWITT
Ap Sports Writer

It is, let us say, an act of charity, performed with a hand covering the mouth to keep the smirk from escalating to giggles and thence to guffaws.

Here we stand, in the ninth week of Tampa Bay's second season, the 23rd game in all. And still the Buccaneers are, to use a horse racing expression, maidens, without a victory — without so much as a tie — to look back upon.

Looking ahead they see, in the final five weeks of the season. Detroit, Atlanta, Chicago, New Orleans and St. Louis — all of them reasonably formidable foes.

Thus, if the Bucs are to avoid a second season of absolute humiliation, a victory must be achieved this Sunday against one of the few National Football League teams with an ineptitude in Tampa Bay's range.

Welcome, New York Giants.

It is, to be sure, an Upset Special of mammoth proportions, considering the Bucs have scored touchdowns in only three games this season and have been blanked in three others. And coming on the heels of last week's horrendous 7-37 mark that put the season record at 77-35 for a .688 percentage, it is a selection to be regarded only lightly at best.

Bucs 16, Giants 14

For New York, it is a trip from the sublime to the ridiculous. Having lost to Dallas, and having an offense resembling Abbott & Costello Meet The Keystone Kops, the Giants loom as the team most likely to be remembered as the one that helped Tampa Bay break its losing streak.

Cowboys 31, Cardinals 21

It appears Dallas has an excellent chance to enter the playoffs with a perfect record. St. Louis won't mar that mark this week, even though it will live on Monday night with some electrifying moments.

Raiders 24, Oilers 13

Oakland and Houston have beaten each other by one-point margins the past two seasons. It won't be that close this time. The Raiders are first in offense in the American Conference. The Oilers are last.

Colts 28, Bills 14

Buffalo would love to see Roland get his Hooks into Baltimore the way he did to the Patriots last week. But the Colts' defense will get its hooks into almost everything the Bills try.

Steelers 24, Browns 17

Cleveland never has won in Three Rivers Stadium. And the Browns are showing signs of fading. The Steelers certainly haven't been world-beaters the past two weeks. They've been self-beaters. That's about to change.

Jets 30, Seahawks 17

Seeing Seattle's defense (of which there is none) will do wonders for the confidence of Marty Domres, New York's temporary starting quarterback.

Broncos 20, Chargers 9

San Diego went without a point in its two games against Denver a year ago. Not this time — but the outcome will be the same.

Dolphins 23, Patriots 20

It's tough to figure New England. The Pats can look so good one week, so bad the next. We'll stick with Miami's consistency.

Bears 24, Chiefs 16

Neither team can stop the other, but at least Chicago has more to stop. It's back to reality for Kansas City's Tom Bettis.

Lions 14, Falcons 7

Detroit literally gets its show on the road. We've given up on Atlanta's offense — if it ever really had one.

Vikings 20, Bengals 17

Minnesota's main goal will be to wipe away the memory of last week's shellacking by St. Louis.

Eagles 20, Redskins 17

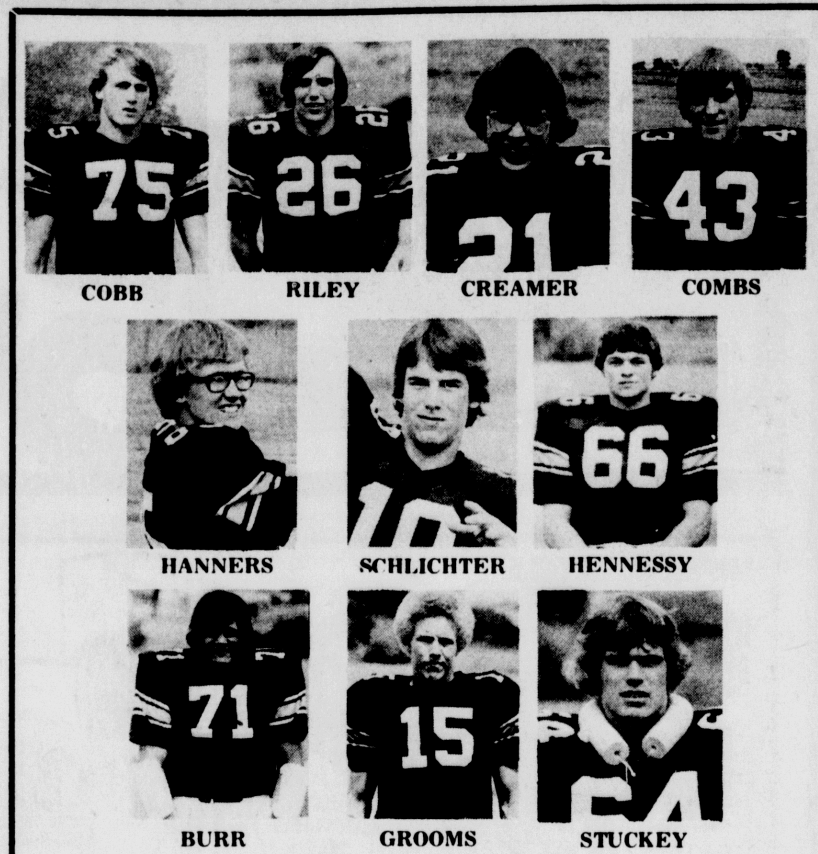

Washington's down after being so up and coming so close in Baltimore.

Rams 34, Packers 13

Los Angeles is shifting into playoff gear ...

49ers 21, Saints 10

... and New Orleans is stuck in reverse.

Panthers of the week

Nine players were singled out by Panther head coach Fred Zechman and his staff as Panthers of the week for last week's performance against Greenfield McClain.

OFFENSE

GLENN COBB — The big, bruising tackle made the list on the basis of his skill at cross-field blocking. Cobb made several key blocks on long gainers.

SHANE RILEY — Riley had good blocking at the point of attack. The Panthers constantly ran behind the senior tight end and he responded by opening gaping holes in the McClain defense.

DAVID CREAMER — The Panther halfback had another 100-yard output rushing and also made the list for his lead blocking on several runs by teammate Denny Combs.

DENNY COMBS — Combs also had another 100-yard game rushing and also caught three key passes to be an all-around threat for the Panthers.

ART SCHLICHTER — Schlichter had another outstanding game at quarterback, completing 14 of 20 for 258 yards.

He also made some key tackles on defense this week.

DEFENSE

BILL HANNERS — Hanners had another excellent catching the football. He made six receptions for 82 yards and one touchdown.

OFFENSIVE BIG LICK — Dennis Combs.

DAVE HENNESSY — Hennessy was once again the leading point-getter on defense, earning headhunter of the week honors. He collected 40 points on 10 solo tackles, five forced bad passes, one blocked pass and two touchdown saving tackles.

DENNIS COMBS — The hard-hitting linebacker amassed 20 defensive points with four assisted tackles and two interceptions.

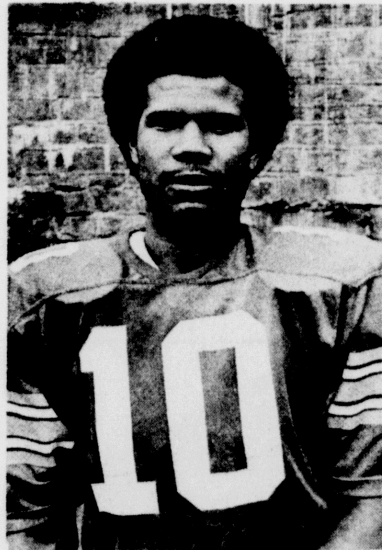

JOHN BURR — Burr put on a fierce pass rush and forced four bad passes by McClain quarterback Alan Storer. He also had six assisted tackles and one sack.

SCOTT GROOMS — The talented sophomore also had 20 defensive points on the basis of six solo tackles, two assists and three key interceptions.

DEFENSIVE BIG LICK — Jim Stuckey and Scott Grooms.

GARTH COX

PETE JONES

JAY MOSSBARGER

Former local gridders winding up season

Two seniors and one junior are winding up their 1977 college football seasons on three different campuses this weekend.

Ohio State Buckeye Garth Cox plays the final home game of his career at OSU tomorrow as the Bucks take on Indiana before yet another sellout crowd. Cox graduated from Washington Senior High School in 1973 and was a member of top-ranked Class AA Lions of that year.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cox of Orient, formerly of Washington C.H.

Dwayne L. (Pete) Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones of Bloomingburg, will be playing his last college football game as quarterback for the West Virginia Tech Golden Bears. Jones has completed 65 of 139 passes for 664 yards this season to lead Tech to a 4-4 record.

Jones was a 1973 graduate of Miami Trace.

Jay Mossbarger, a 1975 graduate of Miami Trace, has been playing a major role in Capital University's football fortunes this fall.

Mossbarger is the leading pass receiver and he has helped the Crusaders to another fine season. He is a speech major, hopeful of becoming a broadcaster after graduation.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mossbarger of Bloomingburg.

Jay Mossbarger, leading receiver for Capital University, has sustained an injury that will make him miss the final game of this season and puts his future football career in doubt.

In last week's game versus Muskingum, Mossbarger suffered a neck injury on a downfield block. The Capital team doctor examined him at the game and he was then examined by a Columbus neurosurgeon.

Mossbarger will be in a neck brace for the next eight weeks and officials at Capital say the prospects for his playing his senior year of football are doubtful. However, they stopped short of ruling him out completely.

According to the doctor's report, Mossbarger suffered ligament damage in his neck between the first and second cervical (vertebrae in the neck).

Oklahoma eyes Colorado revenge

Buckeyes look for another title

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fourth-ranked Ohio State can establish five individual or team football records Saturday against Indiana.

Only one matters to Woody Hayes. The Buckeye coach relishes an unprecedented sixth straight Big Ten Conference title or cotile, extending the school's own record.

A victory over the fourth place Hoosiers would assure Ohio State of at least a piece of the championship going to Michigan next week. The two Big Ten giants will decide a Rose Bowl berth for the 10th consecutive season.

Indiana hasn't beaten Hayes since his opening 1951 season, a string that's up to 20 games. And the old disciplinarian is unlikely to let the streak end.

Ohio State, the only unbeaten team in the conference at 6-0, ranks as a 24-point favorite and Hayes said, "Yeah, they'll give us some problems. But we hope to solve them by the end of the first quarter. We always, always plan to win."

Indiana, 3-2-1 in the Big Ten and 4-4-1 overall, could make its season with an upset of the Buckeyes, 8-1 for all games.

Lee Corso, the Hoosiers' colorful mentor, said, "Trickery or gimmicks won't do it. It takes a sound game plan, a strong kicking game, near perfect execution, a minimum of mistakes and probably some luck along the way."

Besides the record of a sixth straight championship, Ohio State is certain to extend its school mark with a 56th straight home sellout and could set a modern day standard with a fifth straight shutout.

Individually, Vlade Janakievski needs two more extra point kicks to break the Ohio State record of 40 in a row Fred Schram set in 1970-71. And tailback Ron Springs can achieve a personal season high with 69 yards for 1,000 yards.

The game matches the Big Ten's one-two rushers, Indiana's Rick Enis and Springs. Enis leads with 733 league yards to Springs' 709. An 82-yard day for Enis would also give him 1,000 yards in 1977.

Ohio State is healthy with all 22 of its opening game starters available.

Indiana has lost its No. 1 right guard Terry Colby with a compressed vertebrae while regular quarterback Scott Arnett reinjured his ribs in the first half against Iowa last week.

"I will play at Ohio State," said Arnett, a native of Columbus.

The Oklahoma Sooners get a second chance to impress the armchair quarterbacks who watch their football on the tube.

Oklahoma's third-ranked Sooners take on Big Eight foe Colorado in Saturday's nationally televised college game. Earlier this season, the Sooners edged Ohio State 29-28 before television cameras. That was before they lost to top-ranked Texas 13-6, the only blemish on Oklahoma's record after nine games.

And the Sooners also remember last year.

"We need to win," Sooner linebacker Obie Moore said. "If we lose, we can still go to the Orange Bowl by beating Nebraska, but we need to win to get momentum and to avenge the loss last year."

"They scored 42 points against us last year and we still remember it."

Colorado Coach Bill Mallory would like a repeat of last year's 42-31 victory but is talking realistically.

Jo Jo walks out on Celtics; hopes to stir up teammates

BOSTON (AP) — Veteran guard Jo Jo White apparently has quit the sagging Boston Celtics and is waiting for general manager and president Red Auerbach to make the next move.

White didn't show for practice Thursday and says he will not dress for tonight's game at the Garden against Buffalo.

"I realize I'm jeopardizing my career," White told The Boston Herald American, "but I felt a drastic action was necessary to jolt the team. Something has to be done to snap the team out of the slump. Maybe my quitting will help turn things around."

However, Celtics vice president Jeff Cohen said he assumes White will be in the lineup tonight. "We have not received any official notice from White and we will have no comment until we do. All we know now is that he missed practice and will be fined," Cohen said.

The Celtics are off to the worst start in their 32-year National Basketball Association history.

"Continuing our 55th Year of Continuous Service"

Pruitt says he can do it like O.J.

BEREA, Ohio (AP) — Gregg Pruitt, the mighty mite running back for the Cleveland Browns, never has been a shrinking violet. It isn't his nature.

On his way toward what may be his third consecutive 1,000-yard rushing season, Pruitt was relaxing recently in the players' lounge at the Browns' Baldwin-Wallace College training facility when a teammate gave him the needle.

"Hey, Greg, now that O.J. is out for the season, do you think you're the best running back in the game?"

Without hesitation, the 5-foot-10, 190-pound speedster deadpanned back, "I've been the best."

But Pruitt, whose pride still smarts a bit over being a second round draft choice in 1973, has always believed he is as good as O.J. Simpson, the Buffalo superstar, who had knee surgery this week and will miss the entire second half of the season.

"I'm asked a lot about me and O.J.," Pruitt said. "The way I look at it is that there are three different kinds of backs: there's the average backs, the great backs and the super backs."

"I feel I'm in the super category, along with O.J., Terry Metcalf (of St. Louis), Lydell Mitchell (of Baltimore), Chuck Foreman (of Minnesota), Otis Armstrong (of Denver) and Lawrence McCutcheon (of Los Angeles)," Pruitt explained.

"I think that in the super category, you can't say who's No. 1. No one has a patent on doing a certain thing; we all do a lot of things well," he continued. "And when you're in the super level, who cares who's No. 1?"

"Hey, I've done some of the things O.J.'s done. Only statistics can say who's No. 1, but sometimes statistics are misleading," Pruitt added. "A lot has to do with being in the right place at the right time — what team you're with and how you're used and what conference you're in."

"So, I'm not saying that I'm better than O.J.," he grinned. "But I say I'm in the same category."

Pruitt, hampered earlier in the season by an ankle injury, has scampered for 557 yards in 120 carries this season, a 4.6 average. However, the setback was held to just 54 yards in Cleveland's 10-7 loss to Cincinnati last Sunday and managed just 34 yards in limited action in an earlier clash this season with Sunday's opponent, Pittsburgh.

"I was hurting in that first Pittsburgh game, but I'm okay now," he said. "I think we're going to bust loose against the Steelers. This is a big game for us."

Reds sign trio of young hurlers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three rookie pitchers are in the fold for the 1978 baseball season after signing one-year contracts with the Cincinnati Reds.

Paul Moskau, Doug Capilla and Tom Hume all joined the Reds in mid-June of last season. Manager Sparky Anderson said he wanted to give the young hurlers major league experience.

Moskau, 23, compiled a 6-6 record with an earned run average of 4.00 after coming up from Indianapolis.

Hume, 24, who came up twice, was 3-3 with a 7.12 ERA.

Capilla, 25, who came from St. Louis in the trade for Rawly Eastwick, was 7-8 with a 4.25 ERA.

Can't understand the huddles

European stars enjoy football

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

Two of Europe's most famous soccer stars, now opening new frontiers in America, enjoy Yankee-style football. But both acknowledge they are confused by all those little conferences that take place on the field.

"They take up so much time," said Giorgio Chinaglia of Italy, veteran of the 1974 World Cup and, as a member of the Cosmos, the leading scorer in the North American Soccer League last season.

"Every time you look up they are standing there with their arms around each other talking very seriously about something or other. So different from our game. Soccer is the only game in the world that is 90 minutes non-stop — no time outs."

"Those little gab sessions on the field before every play, they confuse me, too," added Gordon Banks of England, regarded as one of the greatest goalkeepers of all time who came out of retirement at age 37 to play with the NASL's Ft. Lauderdale Strikers. "I suppose they are necessary. But they do slow up the tempo of the game."

Huddles aren't the only feature of America's favorite autumn sport that dazes these two stars of a 2,000-year-old sport that suddenly is finding a foothold on the American continent. They are astounded at the size of the players and the brutality of the action.

"It is not unlike a miniature war," said Chinaglia. "It involves movement of troops toward a given target, strategy, generalship, possession of territory."

"But I think it's the violence of it that fascinates the fans. I like it. But it has no relation whatever to soccer. It is like trying to compare apples with oranges."

Banks agreed. "I am an avid football fan myself," said the leathery little veteran from Sheffield, England. "Gridiron football is played with the body and hands. Our game is played with the feet and head." Chinaglia and Banks were together in New York this week to help promote the World Cup soccer elimination match between England and Italy next Wednesday in London's Wembley Stadium. It will be beamed live to closed-circuit theaters in major cities of the United States and Canada.

NBA roundup

By The Associated Press

Atlanta's John Drew has been resting his injured leg and it really hurt the Houston Rockets.

"Drew had a legitimate injury," Atlanta Hawks Coach Hubie Brown said. "He hasn't been practicing much to let his leg heal."

So Drew and Ollie Johnson scored 22 points each to pace Atlanta to a 132-101 National Basketball Association rout of Houston Thursday night and give the Hawks a sparkling 8-1 record, best in the NBA.

Drew showed no signs of his injury when he popped in four baskets early in the third period to widen Atlanta's lead after Houston had pulled to within four points at 55-51 late in the second quarter.

In other NBA games Thursday, the Milwaukee Bucks edged the Washington Bullets 106-103 and the Phoenix Suns crushed the New Orleans Jazz 127-111.

Houston jumped out front 4-0 before Atlanta ripped off 26 of the game's next 30 points, grabbing a 26-8 margin. It was the Hawks' seventh straight victory, matching its longest streak since November 1969.

Moses Malone paced Houston with 27 points.

Bucks 106, Bullets 103

A free throw by Dave Meyers with five seconds left in the game snapped a tie and Junior Bridgeman added two more free throws at the final buzzer as Milwaukee nipped Washington.

The Bullets had two chances to win in the final seconds but Elvin Hayes fouled Meyers twice, the second time costing Washington possession of the ball. Meyers finished with 24 points, as did Brian Winters, to pace the Bucks. Bob Dandridge led the Bullets with 25 points.

Suns 127, Jazz 111

Alvan Adams scored a season-high 35 points and grabbed 15 rebounds to pace Phoenix' victory over New Orleans. The Jazz' Pete Maravich led all scorers with 39 points.

New Orleans narrowed the Suns' lead to 99-90 early in the fourth period, but Phoenix went on an 18-point spree to put the game out of reach.

DOUBLE-DECK RESERVOIR

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The future energy needs of central Ohio could be met with the construction of a giant double-deck reservoir to produce hydro-electric power, some believe.

The futuristic idea was presented recently by a group of businessmen who met with Columbus utilities director Robert Newlon.

The businessmen proposed constructing one reservoir on top of another reservoir, and using the flow of water from the top reservoir to the bottom one to power generators for electricity.

Newlon said finding a source of water to fill the reservoir could be a problem in central Ohio. He said the businessmen were thinking of filling it from area streams and rivers.

Newlon said the businessmen expected the double-deck reservoir, costing an estimated $500 million, would produce the mammoth total of 1,000 megawatts, or enough to supply the electricity needs of one third of Ohio.

Miller new master of Masonic lodge

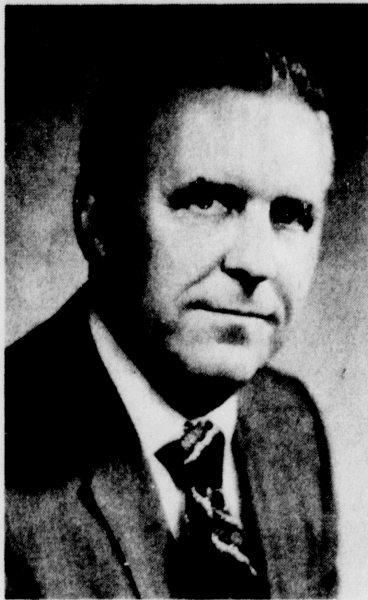

Howard Miller, 265 Kathryn Court, will be installed on Nov. 19 as the 141st master of Fayette Lodge No. 107 at the Masonic Temple, 113½ S. Main St.

Miller, owner of a local real estate firm, will be installed by Denzil L. Leggett of Washington C.H., who is a past worshipful master of the Fayette Lodge. Miller, a Mason for eight years, was elected to the top post in the lodge Wednesday.

Harvey J. Heironimus is the outgoing master of the lodge.

Other officers to be installed are John E. Lyons, senior warden; Edward J. Rose, junior warden; Joseph Shoemaker, treasurer; Russell Giebelhouse, secretary; William G. Ward, chaplain; Randy L. Schneider, senior deacon; Russell H. Liston, junior deacon; Allen L. Mossbarger, senior steward; John W. Scott, junior steward; Russell Goldsberry, tyler, and Heironimus, trustee.

Miller, a past president of the Fayette County Board of Realtors, is a past director of the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Washington C.H. Rotary Club, the Paul H. Hughey American Legion Post 25, a past director of the Washington Country Club, and a member of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. His other Masonic affiliations include membership in the Valley of Columbus Scottish Rite and the Aladdin Temple Shrine.

He and his wife, Naomi, have a son, Robert, who, with his wife, Cheryl, and daughters, Mindy and Kim, reside in Pickerington.

Bob Hope not concerned about his advancing age

CINCINNATI (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope says he's not concerned about his advancing age.

"Jack Benny was telling jokes within a few months of when he got sick and died. He was 81," said the 74-year-old Hope.

The comedian, who will be here Saturday to do a benefit performance, said in a recent interview that he tries to take care of himself physically.

"I watch my health," Hope said. "I go in for physicals a couple of times a year. I'm always checking things."

Hope noted the difference between the way he and Crosby played golf. Crosby died Oct. 14 in Spain after playing 18 holes of golf.

"Not only did he play 18, but he walked 18," Hope said.

Hope said that although he regularly plays golf, he rarely walks a golf course.

"Whenever you see me in those golf tournaments on TV, I get in a cart and relax between rounds."

Hope and Crosby started working together in 1932.

"Bing loved working with me because he could go wild, let himself go," Hope recalled. "It was a tribute to me that I could get him out. I got him to play for fun. That was the way he was in person and we finally got it on screen."

Municipal Court

A local man was found guilty of discharging a firearm within the city limits in Washington C.H. Municipal Court Thursday.

Acting Judge Omar Schwart sentenced 30-year-old David A. Exline, 693 Blackstone Ave., to 90 days in jail and fined him $100 and court costs. However, the judge suspended the jail sentence on the condition Exline does not violate any laws for one year.

Washington C.H. police officers arrested Exline late Wednesday following an incident in which a shotgun was fired in the backyard of his home.

Another local resident signed a waiver on a charge of disorderly conduct by intoxication Thursday.

Ellen E. Burille, 44, of 1114 Rawlings St., paid $65 fine and costs on the charge. She was arrested Wednesday night by local police officers at Eymann Park on Oakland Avenue.

News education conference set

CLEVELAND (AP) — More than 100 educators and newspaper personnel are expected to attend Ohio's 14th annual Newspaper-in-Education seminar Nov. 17-19 in Cleveland.

Speakers will include Franklin Walter, Ohio Superintendent of Public Instruction; Paul Briggs, superintendent of Cleveland City Schools; Diane MacLean, educational consultant for the Canadian Daily Newspaper Publishers' Association; cartoonist Dick Dugan of the Cleveland Plain Dealer; Alex Machaskee, assistant to the publisher of the Plain Dealer; and Tom Boardman, editor of The Cleveland Press.

The seminar is sponsored by the Ohio Newspaper Foundation, the Ohio Circulation Managers' Association, the Plain Dealer and The Cleveland Press.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — From Monday through Wednesday this week, ABC and NBC each explained TV ratings on their evening newscasts. This weekend, they'll show how hard they fight for those numbers.

ABC is rerunning two films that had sky-high ratings their first time on the tube — "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" on Saturday, and "The Poseidon Adventure" on Sunday.

ABC's aim is to cut into the huge audience NBC hopes will tune in — from Saturday through Tuesday — for something that reportedly cost NBC nearly $10 million for a onetime showing.

That something, to fill nine hours, is Francis Coppola's "The Godfather," (an NBC ratings hit in 1974), his unaired "Godfather, Part II," and scenes he originally edited from the films.

The whole kaboodle traces the development of a New York Mafia family from 1918 through the 1950s, although "Godfather" buffs will recall the original chronicling wasn't in chronological order.

The first "Godfather" had Don Vito Corleone (Marlon Brando) running the family in his later years. The second, with Robert DeNiro as the future Don Vito, covered his youth, his flight from Sicily and his bloody rise to power in Fun City.

Now, everything's been recut under Coppola's supervision to make what amounts to a TV miniseries. It unfolds chronologically, ending with Senate hearings that distress Don Vito's son (Al Pacino) no end.

Last month, NBC invited scribes in for an all-day gander at what it now calls "The Godfather: The Complete Novel for Television."

It was a nice gesture. But the trouble with this kind of concentrated Mafia-watching is that three hours later, you have this strange urge to take over the garment industry.

To avoid this, I observed only the Saturday and Sunday segments. Each one, minus commercials, station breaks and whatnot, runs 97 minutes, according to Paramount, the "Godfather" studio.

I spotted only a few scenes I didn't recall from either movie, the longest one being a tender interlude in a gun shop in which guns and murder are discussed while a small boy plays flute.

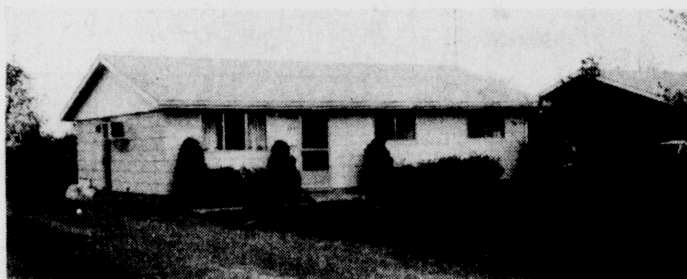

But even my second look at the second "Godfather" and third peep at parts of the original were just as satisfying and occasionally chilling as on the first go-around.

A warning: Sunday's episode, with Brando, includes the famed, horrifying scene of a bloody horse's head in the bed of a movie mogul.

Medical cost plan appealed

CINCINNATI (AP) — The right of Blue Cross to cut off funds to hospitals for running up medical costs through alleged unnecessary construction has been challenged with the Ohio Insurance Board.

The appeal, filed Thursday by St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Dayton, is being closely watched by at least one other hospital there and another in Cincinnati.

Blue Cross of Southwest Ohio terminated St. Elizabeth's membership effective Jan. 31, 1978, because the hospital refused to delete from bills the costs involved in a $2.5 million, 84-bed expansion.

Larry Weier, Blue Cross vice president, said, "The beds were not necessary and should not have been built."

The cutoff was made despite approval of the Ohio Medical Department and the Health, Education and Welfare department for funds.

Weier said the Miami Valley Health Services Agency recommended against it. The state and HEW overrode local planning objections.

Robert E. Fahrendorf, president of the hospital's board, said Blue Cross payments would continue during the appeal.

A second Dayton hospital, Kettering Medical Center, fears it may face a similar action when it opens its $14 million Miamisburg, 120-bed satellite facility in southern Montgomery County. It, too, got state and federal approval over local planners.

Blue Cross has also voiced opposition to a planned Cincinnati hospital which would merge St. George and St. Francis hospitals on the west side which will be considered by the local planning agency in December. Weier said all three were unnecessary.
